

SOCIETY

The month of June has arrived and the roses have come in its wake.

June, by preference of brides, has long held important rank in the social calendar. Its grace has been sung by the poets, Burns declaring:

"O, my love's like a red, red rose That's newly sprung in June."

And James Russell Lowell being the author of the now famous lines:

"What is so rare as a day in June?
Then, if ever come perfect days;
Then Heaven tries the earth if it be in tune."

And over it softly her warm ear lays." June marks the delightful intermediate link in Richmond between spring and summer. The rush of the season is past and gone, but the pleasant aftermath of weddings, lawn parties, country club receptions and luncheons furnishes a round of enjoyment for the rationally-minded contingent, who continue to enjoy June in the city.

The rose is essentially the flower of the month as it has always been the flower of poetry, passion and romance. In evidence Nathaniel P. Willis writes quaintly:

"It is the month of June,
The month of leaves and roses,
When pleasant sights salute the eyes,
And pleasant scents the noses."

Indeed, the color and the perfume of the rose are just as much a part of June as its sunshine and balmy breezes. The month takes its name from Juno, the queen of heaven, whose symbolical flower is the rose.

Miss Logan's Marriage.

Miss Lena Logan, the daughter of General and Mrs. T. M. Logan, will be married to Mr. Douglas Forsythe, of New Orleans, La., Thursday, June 18th, at "Algonia," General Logan's country place.

Owing to recent bereavement in the family of the groom, the wedding will be very quiet, with only the immediate relatives present. The announcement is nevertheless one possessing much interest for Miss Logan's many Richmond friends and relatives.

The friends of Miss Sara W. Coleman will be pleased to hear of a very successful reading given by her in Fairmont, West Virginia.

Miss Coleman well deserves the unattested praise bestowed on her by the Fairmont press. She combines a pure and untroubled with a pleasing personality which will insure her a hearty welcome wherever she appears, she having graduated with the highest faculty endorsement from the Boston School of Oratory.

A very pleasant association links Miss Coleman with Richmond. She was, during the session of 1901-1902, a member of the faculty of the Richmond Female Seminary. Under her careful training her students attained in the school of expression a high grade of distinction.

After a successful year at Westover School, Fairmont, Miss Coleman will return to Richmond about the middle of

MISS IDA BEVERIDGE,
Full Graduate in the Class of 1903, Richmond Female Seminary.

June, when she hopes to meet the many here who know and esteem her most highly.

The Mecklenburg Hotel, Chase City, is becoming quite a summer resort. Among the guests now registered there are: Mrs. S. H. Hawes, Mrs. G. Percy Hawes, Dr. and Mrs. Hugh M. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. George Bryan, Mr. and Mrs. John E. Etchison, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Grubbs, Messrs. J. B. Jeffress, F. B. Nolan, W. O. Riddick, George W. Southall and John B. Pinder, all of Richmond, Va.; Miss Osborne, of Petersburg; Colonel A. W. Archer, of Buffalo Lithia Springs, Va.; Mr. Samuel Watts, of Lynchburg, Va.; Mr. George P. Moore and Mr. H. P. Parker, of New York City; Mr. J. B. Cook, of Louisville, Ky.; Mr. B. L. Smith, of Philadelphia; Mr. J. G. Anderson, of Rock Hill, S. C.; Mr. J. C. Brummett, of Charlotte; Mr. H. Taylor Smith, of Raleigh; Mr. Carl Lorenz, of High Point, and Mr. C. L. Lewis, of Stovall, N. C.; Mr. C. S. Johnson, of Rochester, N. Y.

Weddings This Week.

Quite a number of weddings are on hand for this week, June being ever a favorite month with brides.

Monday begins the celebrations with the marriage of Miss Virginia Chiles, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Winfree, to Mr. Edward Lawrence Gibson, of Baltimore.

The ceremony will take place in the home of the bride, No. 9 North Twentieth Street, at 3 P. M., the Rev. M. Ashby Jones officiating.

Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock, Miss Clara de Graffenhorst, of Bowles, and Dr. Hugh Benjamin Mahood will be married in the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Thea Garland Howell, of No. 100 East Clay Street.

As usual, Wednesday comes up as the favorite day of the week for the matrimonially inclined, and interesting nuptials on that day will be those of Miss Anne White to Dr. George Crawford, of Marshalltown, Del. ("Dewberry," Va., in Hanover county, the ancestral home of the bride's family, has been chosen as the scene of the ceremony. Miss Elsie Stokes, Miss Lucy Mason and Miss Evelyn Bridges will all be present. Miss White is very popular and well-known in Richmond.

The wedding of Miss Alice Lillian Barnes to Mr. J. Stuart Hopkins will be a forenoon event of Wednesday, the ceremony to take place at 11 A. M. on that day in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Leonard Barnes, of No. 911 Floyd Avenue.

The Rev. J. B. Hawthorne, of Grove Avenue Baptist Church, will officiate.

The Association for the Preservation of Virginia Antiquities will meet Wednesday, June 10th, at 5 P. M., in the rooms of the Virginia Historical Society. Every member is entitled to attend the meeting.

MISS FANNIE BLAND,
Honor Graduate in the Class of 1903, Miss Bland also won the highest average for Scholarship in Richmond Female Seminary.

Miss Inez Gertrude Barnes will be her husband's maid of honor, and Mr. L. E. Giles the best man.

The bride will be gown in a traveling costume of blue tulle. Masters Horace Barnes and Stuart Hopkins, Jr., will act as ribbon holders. After the ceremony there will be an informal reception for the bridal party and the families of bride and groom.

Miss Helena Watkins, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Jones, and Mr. Mason Ernest Maddux will be married at 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon in Jonesboro Baptist Church, Brunswick, Va.

Friends in Richmond will be interested to hear that the date of Miss Elsie Carmichael's marriage to Mr. Charles Haydock is definitely fixed for June 14th.

On account of Miss Carmichael's recent illness and the death in Ireland of her grandmother, Mrs. Graham, the marriage will be extremely quiet. No cards have been sent out, and the ceremony will be witnessed only by the immediate friends of the contracting parties.

A wedding of the week around which has been woven an attractive romance is that of Mr. Monroe Levy and Miss Roseendorf, of Boston, to be celebrated June 10th.

Miss Roseendorf came to Richmond to attend the recent wedding of Miss Levy to her brother, Mr. Samuel Roseendorf. The groom-to-be met her then, and the betrothal is the celebration of Wednesday next.

Woman's Club.

Members of the Woman's Club will enjoy an hour of recitation and music to-morrow evening.

The recitations will be given by Miss

Semaj De Franco Boles, whose name carries with it the assurance of everything delightful.

The programme will be most agreeably varied by a number of musical selections, in which the club will have the pleasure of hearing for the first time Miss Nina Smith, a brilliant graduate of this year in Professor Kahn's music class.

A social event of Wednesday will be the Mearns-Morrison wedding, to be celebrated at 6 P. M. in the home of the bride, No. 18 East Franklin Street.

A letter received from New York, and dated Friday, says: The International Mercantile Marine Company's Red Star liner Kronland, which sails from New York for Antwerp with a full complement of cabin passengers to-morrow morning, will carry out a number of well-known people, among them Baroness Muenchhausen; Count and Comtesse Henry de Saint Seine; Commander L. L. Reamey, U. S. N.; Professor L. F. Ward, of Washington, and Lieutenant-Commander W. de Borsisco, of the Russian navy.

A Richmond party sailing will include Miss Margaret E. Lee, Miss Mary Buford, Miss Margaret Shields and Miss Lily Urquhart.

Miss Lee's party will land at Antwerp, go up the Rhine, visit Cologne, Rheims, Mayence, four Switzerland and Italy, go to Vienna, Berlin, Paris, and then to England and Scotland. The party will sail in returning from Southampton, England, and reach Richmond about September 23d. They have most delightful prospects for the months they will spend abroad.

Latimer-Bentley.

A specially interesting society announcement is that contained in the news of the engagement and rapidly approaching marriage on June 17th of Miss Elizabeth Mae Bentley, of the Woman's College faculty, to Mr. Elmer C. Latimer, of Cherry Hill, Penn.

Miss Bentley, who is a Boston Conservatory graduate, and originally from Cherry Hill, Pa., has been associated with the musical faculty of the college for six years. During the past year, she has been the director of the musical department, and has done most satisfactory and successful work, putting into it great zeal and intelligence. Indeed, too much could be scarcely said in professional praise of Miss Bentley. Her high standards have been emphasized by the development of many of her students into fine methods and careful training. Outside of her college life, she has won for herself a large circle of friends, who will regret seeing her leave the college and the city.

Mr. Latimer is a railroad man of fine reputation and sterling qualities, who has the confidence of all who know him.

The marriage, on June 17th, will take place in the home of Dr. J. A. C. Chandler, of Richmond College. Mrs. Chandler being a most intimate friend of the bride. The ceremony will be performed by Dr. Nelson, of the Woman's College, and will be witnessed only by Dr. and Mrs. Chandler, Mr. and Mrs. Chevalier, of Petersburg, and a friend or two of the groom.

The young couple will leave at once for a Northern trip before going to their future home in Pennsylvania.

The Association for the Preservation of Virginia Antiquities will meet Wednesday, June 10th, at 5 P. M., in the rooms of the Virginia Historical Society. Every member is entitled to attend the meeting.

Birthday Party.

Mr. and Mrs. Robinson, of No. 812 West Cary Street, gave a delightful party Thursday night in honor of their daughter, Miss May Robinson.

Games entertained hostess and friends during the evening. At its close all were summoned to the dining-room, where an elegant supper was served. The table was tastefully decorated with cut-flowers and ferns. Among those present were Misses Dora Pierce, Nettie Stowe, Myrtle Alford, Lizzie Jones, Frances Omohundro, Mary Whitmore, Lillian Omohundro, May, Clara and Helen Robinson; Messrs. Grover Cooke, Claude Griffin, Jacob Lange, Harry Jarvis, Grover Floyd, Shirley Robinson, Henry Robinson, Willie Brown, Stewart Thorpe and Henry Rowland.

Annual Exhibition.

The first annual loan and sale exhibition of the Newspaper Artists' Association will open to-morrow at the Crenshaw building, No. 11 West Main Street, and continue until June 15th.

The leading artists in the United States are to be represented in this exhibit and the collection will be one of the finest ever shown in Richmond.

Such names appear in the catalogue as those of John McWherry, of the New York World, whose contributions include such fine examples as his well remembered sketch, "The Arrival of the Coach" and the "Spirit of Summer."

James Preston will be seen through "A Lady's Prayer" and "The Goose Tender," Albert Levering, of New York, through the "Invention of the Kiss" and the "Carnival of Destiny," Sewell Collins, of New York, through his "Herte" and "Soubrette."

John Cecil Clay, formerly of Virginia, more recently of New York, through "Sweet Sixteen" and "Good Night, Sir."

Charles Kemper, of Baltimore, through "The Lady in Green" and "Innocence," Edward Jackson, of the New York Mail and Express, through "The Favorite Daughter's Christmas Present."

Harrington Fitzgerald, of the Item, Philadelphia, through "A Spring Morning" and "Among the Hills," Elizabeth Shippen Green, through "An Only Child."

B. M. Ashe, through "Tally-Ho" and "At the Hunting Lodge of the Duke."

The virile touch of Mr. C. F. Rostrup will be easily discernible through his spirited sketches of Miss Eugenie Taylor, Miss Mary Johnston, General Robert E. Lee, General J. E. B. Stuart, Debauts and a number of others, all characterized by fine and all possessing local interest and color.

Patrons of the exhibit include among others, Messrs. Thomas Atkinson, H. B. Baskerville, Stanhope Bolling, John K. Branch, Joseph Bryan, James H. Dooley, J. Taylor Ellison, Henry Fairfax, Eppa Hunt, Jr., Egbert G. Leigh, Jr., James MacDonald, S. T. Morgan, E. T. D. Myers, Liburn Myers, J. Scott Parrish, Allen Potts, James T. Rutherford, Fred W. Scott, J. C. Shafer, Henry C. Stuart, S. W. Travers, R. L. Taylor, E. R. Williams, R. L. Williams, T. C. Williams, Jr., Governor A. J. Montague, Drs. George Ben Johnston, Stuart McGuire, Hugh M. Taylor, Christopher Tompkins and J. N. Upshur, General Fitzhugh Lee.

Personal Mention.

Mrs. M. A. Martin, whose finely drilled chorus attracted so much attention at the annual concert of the Woman's College, will leave in about two weeks for New York city, where she will pursue the study of vocal music during the summer. Professor Martin will remain at the college, where any one wishing to see him on business will be able to do so from 10 to 2 and from 4 to 6 daily.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Morris left yesterday for Bon Air, where they will spend the summer.

Mrs. Richard S. Allen, now of New York, is the guest of her niece, Mrs. Levin Joyner, of No. 200 West Franklin Street.

Mrs. Edgar Gunn, children and maid, have returned from several weeks spent at Hardware, Va.

Mrs. Mann S. Valentine left yesterday to spend a few days at her country seat, in Powhatan, Va.

Mrs. Preston Le Roy Roper and Miss Annie Wilson, of Petersburg, and Mrs. W. R. Parker, of Hampton, Va., were the guests of Miss Ruby Bodeker yesterday.

Mr. Harvey C. Brown left the city yesterday for Boston, to attend the commencement exercises at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, where his brother, Frank T. Brown, receives a degree in mechanical and electrical engineering.

Mr. and Mrs. Hoffman Allan, after a pleasant visit to Mrs. Pryor, of New York, have returned to Hotel Marlborough, Asbury Park, N. J., where they will spend the rest of the summer.

Mrs. R. R. Roberts will spend the summer at the Mecklenburg Hotel, Chase City.

Miss Ida Beveridge will attend the commencement exercises at Hampden-Sydney next week.
